MAILS for U. S. and Europe, Australia, 3.30 p.m. tomorrow

NEW business continues to come into the sugar market here in only moderate volume, and as a reflection of this supplies in the hands of Chinese dealers and in the warehouses are down several notches from the figures of a few months ago when importations were on an extensive scale. The decision of buyers of sugar to stay "close to the shore" so far as fresh business is concerned is the result of the nervous feeling prevailing in Java and the lower prices that are being registered in the commodity market in Cuba, Java and Japan.

Conditions in the sugar trade have changed considerably since the womenfolk of the States went slow in their sugar consumption as a protest against the high prices that the commodity had been rushed up to in the American market. This brought irregularity and a great measure of speculative selling in the Cuban and American markets which found an echo in Java and Japan.

In the middle of June it seemed as if the sugar market had found its equilibrium again, as the American demand under the influence of the stimulating influence of seasonable summer weather had improved materially, absorbing rapidly surplus supplies, accumulated by refiners, causing the latter to re-enter the market and to replace sales. These purchases brought about the price of Cuban sugar to six cents gold per pound with freight, but at this level the future market met with such a flood of selling that all the improvement had been lost, and prices are back again once more lower than the low point reached in the last decline.

JAVA IS PANICKY

There is consternation in the market in Java at the heavy declensions that have taken place, and a panicky feeling as prevailing there among the Chinese merchants. There is a probability of very big sugar failures in the near future, should nothing eventuate to stave the disaster that seems to be facing many merchants in that country. The situation is so serious that a Trust had been formed in Java with a capital of three million guilders to keep the price of Javanese sugar steady at 14 guilders and to make all purchases of lots that are thrown on the market at 14 guilders.

The Chinese are the principal ones involved in all this big loss brought about by speculation in the commodity, although the Japanese have big interests as well. An attempt to get the latter to join in this price-steadying combine has had mixed reception from the Japanese. They have expressed willingness to come into the scheme, but they suggest an alteration in the modus operandi of the Combine. Instead of agreeing to buy up all sugar that is offered at below and at 14 guilders, the Japanese very wisely think that a better plan would be to come to an agreement among all the merchants interested in the ruling price of Java sugar not to sell same at 14 guilders.

With this rift in the lute, it is but natural that the large sugar merchants, some of whom are facing disaster at present, have failed to bolster up prices, and in spite of the large capital of three million guilders behind the Combine the decline has not been arrested.

WHITE SUGAR

White sugar is quoted today at 13½ guilders for August-September delivery. All concerned in the Java sugar trade are anxious to see how the large forward transactions that had been made when the price of the material was standing high will go when the contracts begin to mature.

Should an arrangement on the lines suggested by the Japanese interest be generally accepted in Java, namely that the merchants should agree not to sell Java sugar at below 14 guilders per picul then it is likely that the situation will not take on such a threatening look. It is inconceivable that success could attend the efforts of the Trust to buy all re-sold sugar at 14 guilders and under as the working capital is only five million guilders, whereas at least double that

Chihli Signs For £1,250,000 Loan

(Eastern News Agency)

Peking, August 24.—The draft of an agreement reached in Tientsin between the representative of a foreign group consisting of British, French, Italian and Belgian capitalists on the one hand and the Chihli faction on the other in connection with a loan to the amount of £1,250,000 on the Tsungchow-Shichiachuang railway was completed about the 10th instant.

In view of the importance of this agreement, however, the authorities of the Communications Department are still hesitant to sign the agreement. In this connection Chinese newspapers report that the government of Chihli province will sooner or later settle this loan question.

Dr. Sun "Generalissimo" In Name Only In Canton; Yunnanese In Control

Mercenary Troops Bleeding Kwangtung White—Militarism Rampant In Canton—Gambling And Opium Stage "Comeback"

(China Press Correspondence)

Canton, August 20.—Dr. Sun Yat-sen, who upon his return to Canton this time assumed the title of Generalissimo instead of President, chose his title well if he was forewarned of the influence the military were going to wield, but badly if he thought that the title would carry the power with it.

At the present time, and for some time past the same condition of affairs has prevailed, Dr. Sun is merely the nominal chieftan in Canton. The Yunnanese militarists have him by the throat. The only time they pay any attention to him whatsoever is when they are in need of money and as soon as that money is spent they again resume their independent and even abusive attitude.

The Yunnanese, of course, are the real fighters in China. They far outclass anything else in the way of troops and few others of China's ragged army can stand up against them successfully for any length of time. In the recent campaigns in Kwangtung they have been used as the shock troops and as such have lost about half of their original numbers. When they lose the other half Dr. Sun may once more assert his authority, but until then he is Generalissimo in name only.

BLEEDING PROVINCE

The Yunnanese call for heavy payments from the Cantonese every time they change fronts—and get the money before they change. Through their recognised fighting ability Dr. Sun is now at least in nominal control of the West and North river regions. The Yunnanese have recently received their blood money and are now fighting on the East river, General Chen's last stronghold in Sun territory.

In addition to the payments brink made them as mercenary troops they have the rights of tax collecting on the Samshui railway and the Shiukwan, the Canton end of the Hankow-Canton railway. They also collect the wine tax direct and have the exclusive monopoly rights for gambling and opium. These two vices were formerly strictly controlled by Dr. Sun but for the present the militarists have obtained the upper hand and are squeezing their monopolies for all they are worth. Gambling and opium smoking are not carried on as openly as they were a few years ago and the gambling places are not as prominent and as ornate as they were, but Yunnanese soldiers may be seen standing sentinel in front of the places at any time.

COOLIES IMPRESSED

In addition to the many other vices that the Yunnanese conquerors are imposing on Canton is a reversal to the old practice of impressing coolies for military service. Your correspondent on several occasions has seen coolies working on the street yanked away from their job and made to carry the luggage of Yunnanese officers or food and ammunition for the Yunnanese troops without pay.

The civil officials have very few rights under the present regime, even Dr. Sun and his immediate official family being frequently compelled to take their medicine from the militarists. Dr. Sun himself has been defied by the Yunnanese officers on several occasions.

The finances of the province have been completely disrupted. When it is understood that the Yunnanese have usurped the tax collecting rights from several of the most lucrative sources of revenue, and that a small portion of Kwangtung, including Canton, has been supporting not only the usual provincial government but Dr. Sun's government and the fighting that has been going on incessantly for a considerable period, it will be easy to understand why the Cantonese are beginning to feel that they are being bled white.

The provincial officials now have only the collections of the land and tobacco taxes with which to run their government, and contribute toward Sun's expenses. Dr. Sun, perhaps, is not personally responsible, but the actions of some of his subordinates are causing the Canton merchants to become 'fed up' with the Southern idealist.

One of the most popular methods in scraping funds together nowadays runs something like the following:

An official approaches a wealthy merchant and accuses him of being an adherent of General Chen. Without allowing him to protest his innocence he is legally kidnapped, carried off to jail, and heavily fined. The fines are graduated according to the alleged Chen follower.

And the treasury gets a few more dollars!

GERMANY SOON WILL BE TALKING IN QUADRILLIONS

State Railway Deficit Placed At 450 Trillion Marks

(Reuter's Service)

Berlin, August 24.—Herr Hilferding, the Minister of Finance, addressing the Budget Committee of the Reichstag, described the financial and political situation of Germany as being almost desperate. The Imperial Government had to cover not merely her own deficit but also those of all the Federal States and Communes, otherwise the whole administration of the country would break down.

He criticised the attempt made by the Reichsbank to support the mark with insufficient means and complained that private firms were unauthorisedly issuing emergency money although many billions of marks were already circulating. With reference to the causes of the deficit, Herr Hilferding asserted that payments and the execution of the Peace Treaty had risen from 450,000,000,000 marks in January to 4,000,000,000,000 marks in July. The deficit of the State railways alone amounted to 450,000,000,000,000 marks. In conclusion, the Minister of Finance said that it was impossible to hope that a great increase in taxation would result in balancing the budget.

(French Wireless)

Paris, Aug. 23. — General Degoutte has ordered the dissolution of the "Deutschstchein legion" association as constituting a danger for the troops of occupation and public order.

Following an interview between the Chancellor and Minister of Finance the official note of the Reich commissary for import and export recalls all those who detain to the prejudice of the German exchange drafts, cheques, etc., abroad, that they will be severely punished.

The communique adds that it is the duty of every German possessing deposits abroad to secure their return without delay and to deliver to the Reichsbank all devices of which they are not absolutely in need.

According to the "Berliner Tageblatt" the political situation has become aggravated in Saxony where a governmental crisis would seem inevitable. The Bavarian Council of Ministers has decided to seize the crops.

TYPHOON PASSES TO NORTHWARD, MISSING SHANGHAI

All Shipping Delayed By Blow; Small Damage Done Here

Except for a considerable amount of minor damage from the wind and the delay of all shipping, Shanghai did not suffer from the typhoon which for two days had been threatening the nearby coast, the storm center yesterday veering further to seaward and passing slowly to the North.

Siccawei Observatory's latest report, issued at 9 o'clock last night, stated that the typhoon apparently continues its northward advance, with consequent decrease of violence in the cyclonic winds between the Eastern and Yellow Seas. No report added that no observations had been received from Japan yesterday afternoon, the cable being interrupted as a result of the blow.

Two trans-Pacific liners, the Empress of Asia of the Canadian Pacific Line and the President Grant of the Admiral Line, which were due yesterday were held up outside on account of the storm, while there was practically no movement of coasting, river and Japan line vessels.

The Empress wirelessed from a point off the Saddles early yesterday to the effect that she was remaining at sea until the storm center had passed on. It was expected that the ship would be able to drop anchor at Woosung at about 9 o'clock this morning and that passengers would arrive about noon.

The President Grant, riding out the blow outside the mouth of the river, was also expected to put in this morning, arriving at about 9.30 if the weather allows.

It is interesting to note that the Empress' messages reported a southeast gale blowing at her location, about 100 miles off the Saddles, while at the same time the report from Gutzlaff was of a northwest gale. Owing to the sharp recurving of the storm, its progress was very slow and at about 4 p.m. the center was almost directly east of here.

Two river boats, the Siangyang Maru and the Whangpu, were the only ships to make port yesterday and only one, the Nagasaki Maru, of the N.Y.K., sailed. The Nagasaki it was believed dropped anchor at Woosung to await better weather before proceeding outside. Six other steamers which left on Thursday were also waiting at Woosung. They are the Andre Lebon Alabama Maru and Yarar for Japan ports, the Kiukiang and Yekishin Maru for northern ports and the Taishun. The Korea Maru, which sailed for Japan ports and San Francisco Thursday evening was believed to have passed ahead of the danger. The two Ningpo ships which were to have

GARLIC TAX RAISES HOWL IN SHANTUNG

Weihsien People Organise To Oppose New Taxes Strenuously

(China Press Correspondence)

Weihsien, Aug. 22.—The new taxes on business for all commodities sold, announced by the Provincial Treasury of Shantung are exceedingly unpopular at Weihsien. It is announced that the collection of the taxes will begin today. The people of the city and country have organised to resist the collection of the taxes and all shops are to close today as a protest against the taxes.

The proclamation says that everything sold will be taxed, the schedule ranging from silks and satins with the highest taxes to onions and garlic with the lowest. When a Shantung man is taxed for his onions and garlic he considers that it is the most vicious combination of a direct tax and a personal insult that can be devised. The Chamber of Commerce, and various guilds and other organisations of both city and country have decided to resist the collection of the taxes to any extent that is necessary. Eighty representatives of these organisations have been elected to take whatever measures may be necessary to see that the taxes are not collected. They have subscribed an insurance fund and the families of any who are killed in resisting the tax are to receive four thousand taels. Accident insurance is also provided. It is not considered locally that the officers who attempt the collection of the taxes will be good risks for life insurance companies.

Yesterday although not big market day had much the appearance of a big market, for people were laying in supplies as it is said that all shops will close including food shops. Rumors are flying about as to how the taxes are to be collected. Some say the collectors are to be at all the gates and every man coming along with even a load of vegetables will be taxed. Others say that licence tickets are to be sold to all dealers. But the general opinion seems to be that there will be no taxes in Weihsien.

CHINESE PAPERS ACCUSE BRITISH, URGE BOYCOTT

Control Of Railways Is Sought, Charge; Effect Feared

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, August 24.—Many vernacular papers are carrying on a violent anti-British campaign with reference to policing the railways. The Peking Daily News asserts that the British Government have long desired to control the Chinese railways. "The scheme had all been matured and was only waiting for an opportune moment to spring it on China and the world. The Lincheng affair gave the British Government the desired opening. British interests are using the Diplomatic Body as the tool to achieve the cherished object."

Such statements, though obviously foolish and without foundation, it is feared, may cause anti-British feeling among the uneducated masses. Some vernacular papers suggest a anti-British boycott instead of a anti-Japanese boycott. Some Japanese are apparently fostering these ideas of opposing the "British" plan. Thus Japanese journalists yesterday passed a resolution against the demands for policing the railways which really are still a matter of secrecy and have not yet been agreed upon far less presented to the Chinese Government.

BRITAIN WILL NOT REPLY TO FRENCH NOTE FOR PRESENT

Document Will Be Examined For Evidence

PREMIER TO REST

Germany Greatly Disappointed Over Poincare's Stand

(Reuter's Service)

Berlin, Aug. 23.—The French Note is unfavorably commented on by the papers, which see no prospect of solution in it.

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Aug. 23.—The remark in the Echo de Paris that "the document does not aim at victoriously refuting an enemy but at enlightening and convincing a friend whose assistance is precious" is the key-note of French press comments, which chorus praise of the "clarity, precision, force, courtesy and firmness" of the French Note. The newspapers refuse to believe that Britain will fail to listen to the voice of reason or deliberately reject a plan for a settlement safeguarding her interests.

(Reuter's Service)

London, August 23.—Copies of the French Note have been circulated to the Members of the Cabinet. An immediate rejoinder is not likely as it is felt that this very complicated document must be thoroughly examined by experts before it will be possible to determine whether it constitutes a modification of France's attitude.

Mr. Stanley Baldwin has not changed his plans and he will depart on a holiday to Aix-Les-Bains on August 26.

It is pointed out that Belgium's reply, which has not yet been received, may possibly contain constructive suggestions.

(French Wireless)

Paris, Aug. 23.—Like the French morning press, where the newspapers generally hostile to the policy of Premier Poincare are themselves approving the French reply to Great Britain, the Paris evening newspapers are praising the foundation and the form of the document.

Le "Temps" also discusses the part of the financial problem, that is especially how Great Britain considers the method of receiving during 62 years from Germany the sums corresponding to the British debt to the United States.

The "Debats" regrets that the vagueness of the British plan, disclosed in the last British note, has prevented the French reply to be quite precise.

The "Debats" hopes that conversations may be undertaken in future and lead to an agreement.

The "Liberte" thinks that M. Poincare has touched a critical Point, stating that France cannot refund before being paid herself. On this point all the Allies are solidly with France, add the newspaper.

(French Wireless)

Paris, Aug. 23.—Concerning the reply of M. Poincare the whole British press are satisfied. Almost unanimous impression is taken of the friendly tone of the French reply which excludes the possibility of a rupture of the entente and it is hoped that the meeting of the two Prime-Ministers will produce good effects.

(French Wireless)

Paris, Aug. 23.—Belgian public opinion is very much interested in the French reply, approves the moderation of its tone and the legitimacy of the French demands.

The "Matin d'Anvers" writes: "The clearness of the account of the French policy will have excellent results at London where they are desirous to base on positive elements."

The essence of the Belgian reply was explained at the Council of Ministers on Wednesday. It will

Smuts' Opponents Launch An Attack

(Reuter's Service)

Pretoria, Aug. 22.—The Opposition has profited by General Smuts's speech on August 19 when he appealed to South Africans and all the nations of the world to rally round Britain in her attempt to reach a settlement of the Ruhr question, to launch violent attacks against the Premier.

General Hertzog, the Nationalist leader, has issued a statement describing General Smuts's speech as heralding war with France, and accusing the Premier of acting unconstitutionally in not calling Parliament with regard to participation in the new war towards which the position in Europe is moving.

General Smuts, replying to this, characterises the assertion of the possibility of war between Britain and France as sheer nonsense. On the contrary the differences between Britain and France are being discussed as between friends. He wonders whether General Hertzog's references to a great split among the South African people relates to another rebellion, but he is inclined to believe that it is merely typical of General Hertzog's tendency to depression.

TROUBLES have multiplied for Mrs. Elaine Lee Harris, pretty 27-year-old wife of Beverly W. Harris, prominent financier and former Vice-President of the National City Bank. Her alleged inability to pay counsel fees of $3,000 brought about the attachment of her property. A hearing of her husband's charges is being conducted in the Missouri city.

Canton Notes

Canton, Aug. 16.—Since the Yunnanese troops sanctioned the licensing of opium-smoking and gambling in Canton, the Chinese in Hongkong and Macao have sent in numerous telegrams of protest and requesting the various public organisations here to join them.

Of late numerous refugees have arrived in Canton from Shiukwan on account of the reinvasion of Kwangtung by the Northern troops. According to them serious fighting had broken out at Chiuing and Namyung before their departure from Shiukwan.

Following the licensing of opium and gambling in Canton, another syndicate has been formed with the object of applying for the monopoly of levying a tax upon the Ma Jongg game.

Information to hand from Wuchow states that General Fung Ik-cho is still alive, the report of his execution by shooting being unfounded. The Kwangtung authorities agree to release him on condition that the foreigners, who have been mediating in the matter, are willing to furnish effective guarantees for his not causing further trouble.

There is a lull in the fighting at Waichow. As Dr. Sun has changed his military plan, the fighting has shifted to the right flank at Pingshan and Tamsui, where serious conflict has occurred. The place has changed hands many times and been badly looted.

The Constitutional forces are now trying to cut off the rear communications of Chan Kwing-ming's troops at Waichow, but so far they have been unsuccessful.

The Constitutionalist forces in the East River District will start a general attack on the troops of Chan Kwing-ming on the different fronts in a few days. The Yunnanese forces which were despatched to the Eastern front last week, are now concentrated in Tsangchin, near Sheklung, and will march against the enemy in Hoyuen, east of Waichow. General Hsu Sung-chi's Eastern Punitive Forces are now advancing toward Chaochow and Swatow by three different routes. The left wing of this expedition, consisting of the 2nd and the 8th brigades, has arrived at Pingshan.

Owing to the present flood in Waichow city and its vicinity handicapping military activities, the attack on the besieged city by the Constitutionalist forces has been postponed. As soon as the flood subsides, the Constitutionalist troops surrounding Waichow, will start another general attack on the city with the co-operation of the airplanes which were recently despatched to the war zone from Canton. It is reported the Constitutionalists will in the meantime get rid of the enemy in Hoyuen, Haifung, and Lukfung first, as there is no question of the capture of the isolated city of Waichow once the enemy troops in the surrounding cities have been defeated.

GAYNOR ADMITS PART IN HOLD-UP ACCUSES OTHERS

Waterworks Employe Implicates Pugilists, Smith And Hansen

Samuel R. Gaynor, an employee of the Shanghai Waterworks Company and a special policeman, who was arrested charged with armed robbery as the result of an alleged opium raid on two Chinese shops, has confessed and implicated both Captain Matty Smith and Kaute Hansen, Caucasians and well known boxers, according to evidence given at the committing of the three men before U.S. Commissioner Nelson L. Larton yesterday. The case was adjourned shortly after noon yesterday and will be continued this morning.

Information that Gaynor had confessed came from U.S. Marshal Thurston R. Porter but the evidence was struck out yesterday because Gaynor was not in the court room when Marshal Porter testified.

Four Chinese witnesses were heard during the morning and when all four gave damaging testimony against the three accused most of them were able to identify the prisoners. More Chinese are expected to take the stand this morning, when the case is resumed, as well as Mrs. Gaynor.

The principal witness at the session yesterday was Wong Ching Tsung, a chauffeur for the Johnson garage, from which the two cars used in the raid are said to have been hired.

Wong testified that last Monday night he drove to 18 Studley Avenue in answer to a telephone summons. There two foreigners and four Chinese got in his car and he drove them back to the garage, where a second machine was hired to carry one of the Chinese, he said.

The two cars were driven to Boone Road, according to Wong, where the other machine picked up two more foreigners near Quinsan Gardens and thence proceeded to King Loong Ka, both machines being driven into this narrow alleyway on Honan Road.

TELLS OF RAID

All of the foreigners and the Chinese except the two chauffeurs entered a house at 8 King Loong Ka. Wong declared, and in a short time came back to the cars, carrying two boxes and a kerosene can, the latter and one of the former being placed in his machine.

Obeying orders, Wong drove to Baikal Road and Studley Avenue, he said, where all of his customers alighted, three of the foreigners going into 18 Studley Avenue. One had previously been dropped at Honan and Kiangse Roads. There he was dismissed and paid "$5 and 50 cents cumshaw."

Upon arriving back at the garage, Wong found a special constable's cap in his car and took it back to the house, he said.

Although professing inability to recognise any of the men in his machine, Wong was positive that the men who came back to his car after entering King Loong Ka were the same who had ridden there with him.

Ling Sing Tsa, sheroff in the cotton merchandising establishment at 8 King Loong Ka, was also called to the stand, and stated that one of the three foreigners whom he saw through a window as they left was dressed in a khaki uniform similar to that worn by the foreign police.

Another Chinese testified that he also saw one foreigner dressed like a policeman. He became badly tangled and although he had previously stated that he saw the foreigner and two Chinese come down with three boxes, on cross examination he said that he did not see them leave the place.

The fourth Chinese witness identified one of the boxes found in Gaynor's home and it was offered in evidence by Acting United States District Attorney Maj. C. P. Holcomb but could give no direct evidence, having been absent from the place at the time of the occurrence.

PORTER TESTIFIES

United States Marshal Thurston R. Porter was called and identified the same box as one taken from Gaynor's home. At about 11 o'clock Monday night Marshal Porter, accompanied by Sub-Inspector Yorke of the International Settlement Police, went to Gaynor's residence. Gaynor led them upstairs, he said, and at his summons, Mrs. Gaynor brought in the three boxes alleged to have been stolen and two revolvers with them.

At that time Gaynor was dressed in a white shirt and flannel trousers and was without a coat, but a police uniform was found in the place, the Marshal testified.

Upon agreement between Attorney Sollitt and Acting United States Attorney Holcomb, the evidence given by Marshal Porter was stricken out, however, as Gaynor was not in the court room when he appeared, having retained separate counsel.

Both Captain Smith and Hansen were apparently unaffected by the events of the morning preserving a cool and unconcerned demeanor at all times, while they frequently joined in the general laughter at some ambiguous irrelevant answer by one of the Chinese witnesses, with whom Attorney Sollitt had great difficulty.

The interest which the case has created in Shanghai's sporting circles was evidenced in the crowd of male spectators which packed the courtroom. Both Hansen and Capt. Smith are well known to local fight fans, the former being an aspirant for the world's heavyweight crown and the latter lightweight champion of the Australian Overseas Forces. Capt. Smith is particularly noted for his recent draw battle with Sailor Chadwick, lightweight champion of China.

Peking Day By Day

BY "QUI VIVE"

Peking, August 23.—The remark has been frequently made in Washington D. C. that certain "pork barrel" politicians not only have a monthly commutation ticket between New York and Washington, but that in addition several of the more prosperous maintain their private cars as well, in order to make the frequent five hour jump with as little personal inconvenience as possible.

What is true of the United States is also true of China with the exception that the nomenclature of the cities is slightly changed. Substitute Peking for Washington and Tientsin for New York and you have the situation in a nutshell. But in China it is not only the "pork barrel politicians" who make the midnight run on the "Nancy Hanks" in their sporty "Blue" portrait wagons de luxe, it is even the staid and solemn Ministers themselves, and to be absolutely truthful, it is especially the latter.

All of which preamble brings me to the consideration of Mr. Chang Hu's frequent peregrinations to the well-known and justly famous Treaty Port some odd miles to the southeast.

It is very difficult to keep accurate track of Mr. Chang Hu's goings and comings. He has recently born strong resemblance to that famous feathered speed in song and story, "The Bird O' The Wing." Mr. Chang has assumed the portfolio of Acting Minister of Finance a little more than a week ago, but has only spent thus far two consecutive days in Peking. The remainder of the time has either been spent in Tientsin or En Voyage.

But, in all fairness to Mr. Chang it should be stated that he was induced to accept the portfolio under decidedly inauspicious circumstances. For one thing he was given the assurance that he would be able to negotiate a loan for $1,500,000 with five of the most important of the Peking banks, giving as security the "unearned increment" of the Chanchi Railway. The day following his induction into office, an important conference was held with the directors of the five banks in question, the papers were all prepared for the final signatures, and it was thought to be merely an open and shut case. However, the directors of the five banks had been doing a little investigating on their own account, and refused to play their part in the farcical drama, unless additional and more tangible security was offered. Here came the rub!

There was no other security available, so the negotiations fell through. That afternoon a crestfallen Mr. Chang hurried off to his friend Admiral Wu Yu-lin in Tientsin "to attend the birthday party of his friend, General Chang Cheng-ping." The birthday party must have been a long drawn out affair because Mr. Chang did not return from Tientsin for three days, but when he left on last Monday night, he brought back with him three quarters of a million dollars in actual cash!

Although the rumor could not be confirmed, it was stated on quite good authority that several members of the personnel of the Ministry of Finance fainted upon seeing so much ready cash in the aggregate. Before, during, and after the birthday party Mr. Chang Hu told his troubles to his friends in the Tientsin Clique, notably Messrs. Pan Fu and Tsao Ju, and promised dire consequences unless the money, (i.e. ready cash) to pay the Metropolitan military and police force was forthcoming immediately. Instead of inviting Admiral Wu Yu-lin to return with him to Peking, he insisted that he should remain in Tientsin to see to it that certain pledges regarding the promises for further loans were fulfilled. The police and military will be paid on next Monday if all goes well, if that time sufficient of the "Tientsin Loan" remains intact.

Former Kaiser's Second Wife Visits Children

Emboldened by the thought that at last there was a possibility of some ready money being paid as remuneration for services rendered to the Central Government, the large staff of the Ministry of the Interior, some 800 in all, decided to strike for salary due. The leading spirit in this latest government strike is the Chief Clerk—name unknown—who harangued his followers yesterday morning before the second matutinal cup of tea, stating that if the police could be paid, why could not they at least receive a portion of the money due them. For his own part he admitted that he received the large wage of $220 a month but that during the past three months he had received only $46.20, just prior to the Dragon Boat Festival. He reminded his hearers that a man in his proud position must keep at least one private ricsha, and that his total takings had been insufficient to pay even his ricsha coolie. He pointed out that those receiving smaller salaries must have been paid still less, and that it had become absolutely impossible for them to live.

A committee of protest was organised to present an ultimatum to the counsellors and departmental chiefs. The latter received the deputation with all the ceremony befitting such a grave issue but stated that they were powerless to effect any relief. Thereupon a resolution was unanimously passed that all should suspend work and have all the official seals and documents on file placed under official seals. The Ministry of the Interior is expected to be clerkless tomorrow.

The forthcoming Presidential Election, which will be held early next month, provided of course that a quorum can be obtained, is exciting much interest. The leaders of both the House of Representatives and the Senate are busily preparing to hold the preliminary elections in a few days, so it is said, in order that the stage may be set for the real election before September 10. However, these "preliminary elections" require a quorum, and at the present writing such a possibility appears very remote, owing to the further departure of Parliamentarians for Shanghai. The "preliminary elections" are strongly reminiscent of carpet bag politics in the United States.

In order to obey the letter of the Chinese Provisional Constitution it is necessary that a Presidential candidate be elected by more than a two-thirds majority. Hence in order to obtain that majority, it is necessary to put several straw men up, in order to knock them down. In other words all aspirants who are nominated in the ordinary course of events must be given an opportunity to demonstrate either their strength or weakness. It is much the same as holding preliminary heats in any athletic contest, with the exception that only the winner qualifies.

Seasoned politicians, although professing the usual outward calm, are nevertheless considerably worried over any action which may be taken by "The Little Parliament" scheduled to meet in Shanghai on September 1. It is a well known fact that they are moving heaven and earth to prevent a quorum from being obtained at the Shanghai meeting, and conferences are held, lasting far into the night, for discussing ways and means to force these recalcitrant members to return. Whether or not any measures which they are contemplating will bear fruit remains to be seen.

Nine days more will tell the tale.

Record School Enrollment At Kashing

(China Press Correspondence)

Kashing, Aug. 22.—On August 17, 260 new students presented themselves for the entrance examinations conducted by Kashing High School. This was the record for the school in 23 years of history. These boys came from several different provinces, but largely from Chekiang and Kiangsu. Many were accompanied by their parents and relatives who showed the keenest interest in their sons' education. Never before has such a problem confronted the faculty of the school—260 boys out of whom only 80 could be selected, since practically 90 percent of the previous year's students had paid their enrollment fee. Only by a series of stiff examinations could any solution be found. It was indeed disquieting to see the sorrow of some of the little fellows turned away. Never before has the writer seen such intense zeal for an education on the part of such a large number of applicants. In many other places also a splendid enthusiasm is being shown, which speaks well for Chinese education and the future of this great land.

The Kashing High School will open in September with an enrollment approximately of 315, the record in its history.

Oratorio Pleases Many At Services Held In Tsingtau

(China Press Correspondence)

Tsingtau, Aug. 20.—The usual preaching service held on Sunday afternoon in the Grand Hotel was given over yesterday to a special song service, which gave the community unusual pleasure and drew forth a large crowd. After an introductory address by Bishop Frederick Graves on the character and career of Elijah, the following from Mendelssohn's Oratorio, "Elijah" were rendered:

PART I

Quartet, "Lord, Bow Thine Ear."
Soprano recitative, "Ye People, Rend Your Hearts."
Soprano Solo, "If With All Your Hearts."
Bass Recitative and Air, "Draw Near, All Ye People."
Quartet, "Cast Thy Burden upon the Lord."
Recitative and Quartet, "Thou Hast Overthrown Thine Enemies!"
Quartet, "Thanks Be to God."

PART II

Soprano Solo, "Hear Ye, Israel."
Bass Solo, "It is Enough."
Trio, "Litt Thine Eyes."
Quartet, "He Watching Over Israel."
Contralto Solo, "O Rest in the Lord."
Soprano Solo, "Then Shall the Righteous Shine Forth."
Quartet, "O Come, Every One that Thirsteth."

Miss Edythe M. Flower, soprano; Mrs. J. W. Bateman, contralto; Mr. F. W. Dietrich, tenor; Mr. C. D. Gianque, bass; and Mrs. R. C. Wells, accompanist, had spent much time during this rest season in preparation for this delightful occasion and those who heard the numbers feel much indebted to them for this good music.

The Sugar Trade

The importation of Japanese refined sugar into Shanghai has suffered considerably since the boycott movement was initiated against the Japanese manufactures. A good business was done in the latter part of last month, when some 60,000 bags were bought by the merchants here at about yen 14 per picul c/f Shanghai. Since then very little fresh buying has been reported, the Chinese dealer insisting on lower prices. The idea prevails in the Shanghai market that much lower values will be seen shortly. The Japanese refiners are asking for yen 13.50, while the best offer from here is only yen 12.50 c/f Shanghai.

At the latter rate a very large trade can result. The tendency among the Hongkong refiners to keep up their prices has obviously failed. Until the end of July Hongkong sugar was rated at Tls. 10.50, although the price of refined Japanese was selling then at Tls. 9.30. At the beginning of this month a reduction of Tls. 0.40 was announced, the rate being now Tls. 10.10 against Japanese refined, which is of the same quality, at Tls. 9.40 per picul.

SHANGHAI STOCKS

Sugar stocks in Shanghai are some 207,000 bags at the present moment, comprising of 45,000 bags of Java, 20,000 bags of Philippines, 20,000 bags of Chinese native, 42,000 bags of Japanese and 80,000 bags of Hongkong. The movement of the cargo into the interior points is slack owing to the disturbed condition of the country.

The Cuban market is gradually going down, being now quoted at C. 4.25 per ton, and it is weak at that. An active market is not expected.

So far as Europe is concerned, the sugar market is strong and supplies are not too scarce. European beet sugar producers are endeavouring quite manfully to put their house in order. Germany is not enjoying an enviable position and Berlin is to continue sugar rationing. The new German sugar campaign is obscure. The sugar control arouses much irritation, but Germany hopes to produce as much sugar this year as she did last, despite the handicaps of French occupation.

Methodist Pastor Comes Out For Darwin Theory

Chicago, Ill.—William Jennings Bryan was called "superficial in education" and his theories were characterised as endangering to young people in college, by Dr. George Elliott of New York City, editor of The Methodist Review, who preached at the Desplaines camp meeting.

Dr. Elliott said that John Wesley, the founder of Methodist and an Oxford University fellow, was a pre-Darwinian teacher of evolution and wrote a book to prove his belief.

"The doctrine of evolution is accepted by nearly all intelligent people," said Dr. Elliott. "Darwin wrote the 'Descent of Man,' but we prefer to call it 'The Ascent of Man.' It is a serious matter that Mr. Bryan with his superficial education should cause young people in college to think that in order to accept Christianity they must accept his definitions of evolution.

"John Wesley was a pre-Darwin evolutionist. He spoke of the ape as 'a rough draft of man' and said 'How wonderful it is that the paws became hands.'

"Personally, I like to think that I am related to the worm in the soil, the birds in the air, and all the animals. I never want to go back on my poor relation. I would rather think we came from the monkey than from mud.

"But the great thought is not that we came up from the dust, but that God came down to us and breated into us the breath of life."

Australian Sheep And Breeds Improvement

For the past two years a controversy has been in existence in Great Britain over the improvement of the fleece of some of the British breeds of sheep. Arising from this discussion it has now been decided to import Peruvian merino rams and cross them with the Scotch Blackface, Welsh Mountain and Cheviot breeds. The reason given for selecting Peruvian instead of Australian and New Zealand rams was that the former were the purest obtainable and would suit the climate. An Australian stock-breeding authority, the "Pastoral Review," points out that the term "purest" has many interpretations, and as regards suitability to climate, well, Australia has for many years produced a pure type of Merino on the tablelands, which have an altitude of three to four thousand feet, whilst these Merinos have a world-wide reputation for the high and fine quality of their fleece. So if a fine-woolled Merino was absolutely essential for this proposed improvement in the fleece of the Cheviot, Welsh Mountain and Scotch Blackface breeds, why go outside the Empire for goods which can be produced within, and of the same, if not better, quality When one considers that these three British breeds are mainly mutton producers it is a debatable question as to whether the introduction of fine-woolled Merino blood would be to advantage. Judging by experiments carried out in Australia it would not be. One would think that an infusion of the famous large framed, medium-woolled Australian Merino, or perhaps an infusion of Corriedale blood would give far better results, but whatever blood is required, either Australia or New Zealand can supply it.

Your Baby's Hair Needs Your Attention!

Children are suffering from infection of the scalp just as grown up people, especially in hot weather.

Inflammation of the pores of the scalp often affecting the roots of the hair may bring on a multitude of ailments and lead, in later years, to dry and dull hair, dandruff and falling hair. The liberal use of especially during hot weather, will wonderfully stimulate a luxuriant growth of soft, silky, fluffy hair. Children's hair responds easily to 'GERMOL', for it is nature's way. It feeds the roots, keeps the scalp flexible and serves as an invigorating tonic to the hair. 'GERMOL' is effective on young and old alike. Try a bottle without delay, you can find it at your chemist.

Gallopers To Tackle Fort Millers Today In Second Game Of Series

Going Not Likely To Be So Easy As It Was Thursday; With Mumford Or Birtelpo Pitching Fans Are Sure To See Fine Exhibition

By Wesla

The second game of the baseball series between The Shanghai and Fort Mills teams will be played this afternoon at the race track grounds, starting at 4 o'clock, weather permitting. In other words, if Ty Phoon will tote his windmills to some other part of the map, and if Jupe Pluvius will kindly refrain from yanking the bungs of his sprinkling carts the Gallopers will step out there and prove to the assembled multitude of fans and fanoritas that Thursday's little party was no accident.

Ty and Jupe, the pestiferous pairs have been hanging around their parts all week, fairly itching to upset the apple cart. Of the two Jupe is the one most feared. Ty makes himself a complete nuisance at times, but at least you don't need an umbrella of a raincoat or a roof over your head when he does his stuff. But let ol' Jupe get started and nobody else has a lookin. That guy is the best little buster up of week end parties at the race track that could well be imagined. He'll about as welcome as small pox.

As to the ball game, if the Gallopers can hit and hold the stride they exhibited Thursday the Millers will be lucky to escape with their bat bags. The going will not be easy for Kingman's crew however, for either Mumford or Birtelpo will pitch, in all probability, and those birds are not what you might call easy marks. Mumford has oodles of speed in his left handed flipper and if he is in anything like the form he displayed here last year the Gallopers will have to be up and doing.

Herby's pitching selection is problematical. He may use Wynn, but the most likely choice is Posnecki, with Scott held in reserve for Sunday's game. This will mean a break in the outfield combination that was used so successfully Thursday, but the infield will be the same, with Bullard, Bills, Thatch and Kingman forming an inner defense that the Millers will find difficulty in penetrating.

PAU SUNG MAKES DEBUT AS BOXER, ALSO EXIT

Russian Catches Him On The Chin And He May Recover

Pau Sung took his first lesson in foreign-style boxing at the Stadium last night. Pau was formerly a Chinese boxer, well versed in the gyrations and gymnastics of muscular oratory. Pau, seeing good crowds at the weekly amateur bouts at the Stadium, decided to take up foreign boxing.

Last night he made his first formal bow before the numerous fight fans, mostly Chinese, who crowded Mr. Sullivan's ampitheater. His opponent was Atenoff, a Russian refugee. The fight lasted just seven blows, which were about even. Then Pau made a mad rush just as Atenoff started one from the ground. Pau is still wondering what time the birdies are singing.

With training Pau would very probably make a fairly decent fighter. He is well built, has plenty of nerve and with instruction in the rudiments of the game would possibly show up well in future bouts at the Stadium.

It was the only knock-out of the evening. Battling Wolgast, another Russian, battled with Sampan of Tientsin. Wolgast winning after four rounds of windmill slugging. The second bout between Alasky and Kid Chang, another Chinese, ended in a draw after four rounds of intermittent fighting and running.

Abe Ezra, who is more or less of a boxer about these parts put on an exhibition four rounds match with Battling Calerino. Despite the fact that both are regular fighters the amateur bouts were much more exciting and much more fun.

Villa Fights Charlie Rosemberg

New York, Aug. 23.—Pancho Villa is arriving tonight from Saratoga to fight Charlie Rosemberg bantamweight a ten-round bout tomorrow. Although no title is at stake considerable interest is being manifested in the bout as Rosemberg is boosted as a real knock out puncher.

Mike Ballero will also fight Joe Nelson ten rounds on the same card.

WYER THINKS INCOME TAX ALREADY VOID

Washington Attorney Cites Supreme Court Ruling in Test Suit

Washington, July 16.—Walter Holland, Washington attorney, who with other lawyers will sue to test the income tax amendment in the Supreme Court of the United States, has made the rather startling declaration that the court already has declared unconstitutional any amendment providing for a Federal income tax.

Mr. Holland is known for his proclivity for investigating old records and theoretically overturning established laws. The decision to which he refers was handed down in 1855 with an opinion by Justice Wayne in the case of Dodge vs. Woosley (18 Howard, 331), the Justice stating that clause 4 of Section 9, Article I. of the Constitution is a "permanent and unalterable exception to the power of amendment."

The Constitution states in Article V. that it may be amended except in three particulars, one of which is that no amendment made prior to the year 1808 shall affect the fourth clause in the ninth section of the first article.

That clause states that "no capitulation or other direct tax shall be laid unless in proportion to the census or enumeration hereinbefore directed to be taken."

Mr. Holland thinks casual reading would lead to the belief that disability to amend clause 4 expired in 1808, but Justice Wayne's opinion said:

"The same article declares no amendment which might be made prior to the year 1808 should affect the first and fourth clauses in the ninth section of the first article, and that no State without its consent shall be deprived of its equal suffrage in the Senate, the first being a temporary disability to amend and the other two being permanent and unalterable exceptions to the power of amendment."

Exchange Fluctuations

Asia Banking Corporation

August 24, 1923

Spot bar silver was down 1-16d and forward ⅛d in London yesterday. The New York price declined to 62½ cents and the London-New York cross rate improved to 455⅝.

Our official Sterling rate here this morning was dropped to 3-0¼, the Gold Dollar rate to 68¾, the Franc rate to 1230, the Yen rate raised to 71½ and the other rates changed accordingly. Our market here in the early part of the day was easy but steadied up somewhat later.

There were generally sellers of Sterling at 3-0 9-16 for August, 3-0½ September, 3-0 7-16 for October and 3-0⅜ for November-December. There were sellers of Gold Dollars at 69½ for August and 69⅜ for forward delivery, and sellers of Yen at 70½ for near delivery and 70⅝ for forward.

There were buyers of all currencies at a fraction above these rates. Banks were quoting 3-1 71 and 1280 for Sterling, Gold Dollar and Franc bills respectively.

There was a small amount of local selling in the London market yesterday which is reported as dull. There was practically no business done in the New York market.

"THE CALL OF HOME"

"THE CALL OF HOME" is one picture in a thousand. It tells the life story of a man who deserted all he held dear because he thought the one woman was unfaithful to him.

He fled to South America, married a native girl who saved him from death in a torrential river, and tried to be contented.

But not until the bars that kept him from home were swept away by a devastating flood, and he had returned to home and kindred did he find peace and happiness.

This is a really great picture. The flood scenes will make you want to stand up and shout.

WEATHER

The typhoon will continue slowly its recurving motion off the mouth of the Yangtsze. Rough weather and hard cyclonic winds on the Yellow Sea, between Kiangsu, Shantung and Korea. Squalls from the North-West quadrant probably of decreasing violence.

The typhoon off the mouth of the Yangtsze appears to advance slowly Northwards. Onshore winds probably decreasing between the Eastern and the Yellow Seas. No observation from Japan this afternoon the cables being interrupted.

Baron Kato

ADMIRAL Baron Tomosaburo Kato, Premier of Japan, who died yesterday, was one of the most enlightened and progressive of the Japanese leaders. His chief fame will rest upon his work at the Washington Conference when he acted as Japan's chief representative in the deliberations that resulted in the naval armaments of the Powers being reduced to within reason and the armament race of the world being stopped.

Admiral Kato, in addition to his work at Washington, played a prominent part in recent years in what may be described as Japan's awakening. Much of the old Japanese bugaboo has been thrown off because of the liberal views he expressed, and because of the open diplomacy he advocated. No country can be changed in a night, and no one man can change a country in a day. Japan has not changed thoroughly and completely, but Admiral Baron Kato did a great deal toward instituting the changes that have made liberal leaders throughout the world look more kindly upon Japan.

Baron Kato was born on February 22 (historic to Americans for Washington was born on that day) 1859 in Hiroshima prefecture—or on the twenty-second day of the second month in the first year of Bunkyu, according to Japanese reckoning—the son of a samurai. He was educated at the Naval College and upon his graduation was appointed a Second Sub-Lieutenant. Fifteen years later he had advanced to the rank of Captain and was named a professor at the Naval Academy.

After attracting attention as an instructor of young Japanese naval officers-to-be he was made Sectional Chief of the Naval Affairs Bureau of the Navy, and then Chief of Staff of the Standing Squadron. Later he became Chief of Staff of the Kamimura squadron and during the Russo-Japanese War was transfefred to the Combined Fleet where he distinguished himself as the right hand man of Admirals Togo and Kamimura.

After the war, in appreciation of his naval services he was made Vice-Minister, raised to the rank of Vice-Admiral two years later and made Commander-in-Chief of the Kure Administration. During his active service in the Navy he was awarded the second order of the Rising Sun and the second class of the Golden Kite.

When President Harding called the world conference on disarmament at Washington Baron Kato's great opportunity came. He was appointed the chief Japanese delegate on November 16, 1921, and presented the Japanese views ably at the ensuing discussions which resulted in the present dismantling of warcraft—an act that he had just put into actual effect a few days before his death.

He formed the Kato Cabinet on June 12, 1922, in succession to the Takahashi Cabinet, and since that time had directed the affairs of the Empire of the Rising Sun in a manner that not only reflected great credit on himself, but created a more friendly feeling for Japan among the other nations of the world.

Under Kato's policies Japan and China—despite the present boycott—have become friendlier, and relations between the United States and Japan have never in recent years been on the same splendid basis that they are at the present time. A great deal of the credit for this better feeling belongs to the Premier who died yesterday.

He will be mourned by the Japanese as an official who devoted his best efforts to advancing the interests of his country with due regard to the interests of other peoples inhabiting the globe and his passing will be regretted by the citizens of other nationalities who saw in him a strong advocate of the new liberalism that is permeating Japan, slowly but surely, and causing the eyes of the world to look toward Nippon without suspicion and with sincere admiration for her in the difficult rôle she is called upon to play.

Selected Verses

DUNE FOLK
(From Contemporary Verse)

When the big moon her white wine spills
And twisted grass on sandy mounds
Utters its little weird sounds—
The dune folk gather on the hills.

They may be fairies at their play,
Or sea-folk horn of foam or mist,
Or ghostly shapes that keep a tryst,
Or lone wind-children strange and gray.

I think of them as small and fleet,
(I know they are a timid band)
And I have seen upon the sand
Footprints not made by mortal feet,

Some night I'll hide behind a dune
That holds low trees and watch and see
This little folk of mystery
That toil or play beneath the moon.

HONEY 3,000 YEARS OLD
(Tut-ankh-amen)
(From The Lyric West)

Fragrance unfading, from immemorial hours,
Gold of some summer's long-forgotten light,
Harvest of bees from the unwithholding flowers,
Garnered by slaves to make a king's tomb bright!

Oh my Beloved! When I am dead,
Place in my casket a little golden song,
Honey-sweet with rapture of vows our lips have said,
For whose renewal no waking is too long.

MARY BRENNAN CLAPP.

A WASH-PIECE
(From The Lyric West)

I will wring my linen out of clean water,
I will hang it out to the clear red sun;
I will bring my linen in
White and dried-hot before
Dew-dusk comes on.

Blue and cream blankets,
Sheets and cased pillows, too;
I will spread them all round me
When stars fill my window;
And wrapt in sweet covers,
Breathe deep a sky-fragrancy
The wind poured through them.

The sun burnt in on them
Before the dusk-dew—
Fresh linen, pure linen,
Sweeter linen than new;

A LOST WORLD
(From The Atlantic Monthly)

To make us mindful boys, the college chime
Rang all the while—it was to college will;
It sang the silver measurement of time,
And our young curses rang more silver still.

Then say that we were bells cast into flesh,
And every wind that rusted in our blood
Stirred in our skulls clear poignant chimes and fresh,
And poured them out a brilliant dreamful flood.

But now this wisdom sits upon our lips,
And smart reserve has caked us up with mold;
The wind dies down to little breezy quips,
And not a hand can ring us, soft or bold.

Or if chance wakes our resonance again,
We clang the dull and sodden speech of men.

REMEMBRANCE

I thought that when our friendship ceased to be
I'd miss you in a thousand tender ways.
I thought it would mean bitter pain for me
And many empty hours and lonely days.
But life goes on in much the same old vein.
The hours and days pass quickly as before.
There are no tears, no bitterness, no pain—
Though nothing seems to matter any more.
I school myself and say I will not long
Forget you for a happy little while—
Then chance upon some well-loved book or song
And turn to meet your understanding smile.
And then I realise you are not there,
And even if you were, you would not care.

RAILWAY BOOKING CLERKS' RAVENOUS SQUEEZE

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS

Sir,—Yesterday morning (the 20th inst.) my wife going to Chenju went to Shanghai North Station about 9 a.m. to buy a 3rd class ticket. At the first window, from the main entrance, north side of the ticket office, she handed the clerk at the window 6 coppers, which was the sum she was supposed to pay according to the notice posted near the window, the fare being 5 cents "big money," but the clerk refused to accept it and demanded a "10-cent" piece.

Unfortunately, my wife at the time happened to have no "10-cent" piece with her. The clerk impatiently and insultingly grunted at my wife, "If you don't have, go to get from the money exchange." My wife pleaded that it would be rather inconvenient for her as a lady to go quite a distance to get the change but she was perfectly willingly to pay the equivalent of what the booking clerk would get, had she paid him a "10-cent" piece. As a "10-cent" piece is now worth 15 coppers and a passenger is ordinarily given back 2 coppers if he tenders a "10-cent" piece for a 5 cents ticket, my wife let the clerk understand that she was willing to pay him 13 coppers, so that he would get just as much squeeze.

On hearing this and having received the 13 coppers, the booking clerk was finally persuaded to sell her a ticket. Now, according to the notice mentioned above, my wife was entitled to pay her fare with 8 coppers, and the booking clerk in demanding a "10-cent" piece squeezed the passenger and, incidentally, the railway, 5 coppers, as he would turn in only 8 coppers as posted on the notice.

The same thing happened to my wife at Chenju Station when she returned Shanghai by the 13.15 train.

The thing appears at first sight trivial, but I am taking it up on behalf of the inarticulate class of passengers, who have suffered so long without knowing how to seek redress. I am reliably informed by a railway employee that a booking clerk in Shanghai North Station ticket office can squeeze on the average $800 a month, mostly from the poor, weak and ignorant people, the worst sufferers being the 4th class passengers taking the train leaving Shanghai North 7.35 every morning, since most of them cannot read and are blindly afraid of the bullying booking clerks. The unfortunate thing is that 1st and 2nd class passengers and foreigners who can better afford, are not touched at all, I suppose, because of their superior intelligence and standing, and they understand how to complain.

As a remedy I venture to suggest that you would be kind enough, for the good of the poor, weak and ignorant travelling public, to send one of your reporters to the station about 7 a.m. and see for yourself the intolerant conditions at the 4th class ticket booths near the southwest entrance of the station, the congestion at the windows being awful (the clerks, in spite of notice by the Ministry of Communications and the Railway Administration, purposely delay the selling in order that the poor passengers, anxious to catch the train, can have no time to count their change and bother the booking clerks with any irregularities they detect) so that, I earnestly hope, you will exert your great influence with Mr. Wayne, the Traffic Manager, on behalf of the ignorant sufferers, to do away with the shameful evil of the booking staff. Selling 4th class tickets is the most lucrative business and is taken by turn among the clerks of the station. Apologising for taking up so much of your valuable space,

"A Sufferer."

ONLY A CAT

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS

Sir: People are beginning to leave Mokanshan, and I would like to make an appeal to all those who have brought cats up here this year, to take their cats back with them when they go. Every year pet cats are abandoned by their owners, and late dwellers up here are distressed by the sound and sight of starving cats. People say "a cat can always find food." I would ask them, can any animal find food when all houses are closed, chicken runs empty, house scraps gone, game nil? Just let them sit down and think, it won't take long to discover the answer. Last year I was fortunate in rescuing one pet cat, and she is now in a happy home. The night before a family leaves, shut up the cat in a room, buy a basket—easy and cheap up here—put the cat in and the trick is done. But don't leave these nice little animals to die the lingering death by starvation. I am, etc.

Cat Lover.

Centrifugal Force And The Moon

BY GARRETT P. SERVISS

"Is the force of gravity of a planet, or a satellite, created by the rotation around its own axis? If so, what would prevent the inhabitants of the moon from falling into void?—A Reader, Revere, Mass."

How could you have imagined that rotation could create the force of gravity? If rotation can be said to create any force, it is a force opposed to gravity, or directed away from the center of the rotating planet. This is called centrifugal force. In calculating the weight of bodies at any point on the earth's surface we have to diminish the theoretical force of gravity at that point by the amount of centrifugal force corresponding to the linear speed at the same point. If the earth stopped rotating, your weight would increase, because the centrifugal force would be withdrawn.

The whole question of the nature of gravity and centrifugal force has lately been brought under discussion by the Einstein theory, but that does not affect, or change, the observed facts; it concerns only the explanation of them, as regards their ultimate cause.

The moon's rotation is so slow that its effect upon the intensity of lunar gravity is negligible. But if the moon should begin to turn on its axis as rapidly as the earth does, the weight of bodies on its surface would be perceptibly diminished. So, you see, the inhabitants of the moon could be in no danger of falling off unless their little world began to rotate with extreme rapidity. The slower it rotates the safer they are, as far as that is concerned. But if the moon began to spin very swiftly they would be shot off like a stone from a sling.

It is evident that you have somewhere imbibed the erroneous notion that the moon does not rotate on its axis because it keeps the same face always toward the earth. This error seems to be very hard to eradicate. The moon does keep almost the same face continually toward the earth, but its speed of rotation being constant, while its speed of revolution around the earth is variable, it does not keep exactly the same face toward the earth. This fact can be observed any month as the moon travels around the earth, and in itself it proves the rotation of the moon on its axis.

the large arrows) is not constant, but faster when nearer the earth and slower when farther from the earth, it results that when the moon has gone one-quarter of the way around, from M1 to M2, it has been moving relatively faster in its orbit than on its axis, so that the fixed spot on its surface, "a," which was in the center of the side facing the earth at M1, has not rotated far enough to be in the center of the earthward face at M2.

Follow the moon around through M3 to M4 and you will see how the spot "a" first swings back to the center, and then again away from it in the opposite direction. This oscillation of the moon, called libration, shows that the moon is not connected with the earth by anything resembling a rigid bar, but is free to rotate on its axis, and does so rotate, the period of an entire rotation coinciding with that of an entire revolution. But only at perigee and apogee do the effects of the two motions coincide. The dark hemispheres of the moon in the picture are not intended to suggest that it receives its illumination from the earth, but only to show more clearly the shifting of the center of the earth-fronting side.

NEW GEMS by O. HENRY

A Treasure-Trove of Humor From His Newly Discovered Newspaper Writings

THE PRISONER OF ZEMBLA

SO the king fell into a furious rage, so that none durst go near him for fear, and he gave out that since the Princess Astia had disobeyed him there would be a great tourney, and to the knight who should prove himself of the greatest valor he would give the hand of the princess.

And he sent forth a herald to proclaim that he would do this.

And the herald went about the country making his desire known, blowing a great tin horn and riding a noble steed that pranced and gamboled; and the villagers gazed upon him with awe and said: "Lo, that is one of them tin-horn gamblers concerning which the chroniclers have told us."

And when the day came, the king sat in the grand stand, holding the gage of battle in his hand, and by his side sat the Princess Astia, looking very pale and beautiful, but with mournful eyes from which she scarce could keep the tears.

And the Knights who came to the tourney gazed upon the princess in wonder at her beauty, and each swore to win her so that he could marry her and board with the king. Suddenly the heart of the princess gave a great bound, for she saw among the knights one of the poor students with whom she had been in love.

The knights mounted and rode in a line past the grandstand, and the king stopped the poor student, who had the worst horse and the poorest caparisons of any of the knights and said:

"Sir knight, prithee tell me of what that marvelous shaky and rusty-looking armor of thine is made?"

"Oh, king," said the young knight, "seeing that we are about to engage in a big fight, I would call it scrap iron, wouldn't you?"

"Ods bodikins!" said the king. "The youth hath a pretty wit."

The tourney lasted the whole day and at the end two of the knights were left, one of them being the princess's lover.

"Here's enough for a fight, anyhow," said the king. "Come hither, O knights, will ye joust for the hand of this lady fair?"

"We joust will," said the knights.

The two knights fought for two hours and at length the princess's lover prevailed and stretched the other upon the ground. The victorious knight made his horse caracole before the king, and bowed low in his saddle.

On the Princess Astia's cheek was a rosy flush; in her eyes the light of excitement vied with the soft glow of love; her lips were parted, her lovely hair unbound, and she grasped the arms of her chair and leaned forward with heaving bosom and happy smile to hear the words of her lover.

"You have fought well, sir knight," said the king. "And if there is any boon you crave you have to name it."

"Then," said the knight, "I will ask you this: I have bought the patent rights in your kingdom for Schneider's celebrated monkey-wrench and I want a letter from you indorsing it."

"You shall have it," said the king, "but I must tell you that there is not a monkey in my kingdom."

With a yell of rage the victorious knight threw himself on his horse and rode away at a furious gallop.

The king was about to speak when a horrible realisation flashed upon him and he fell dead in the grandstand.

"My God!" he cried as he expired, "I've has forgotten to take the princess with him."

WHAT TO DO FOR YOUR PILES

Every sufferer from Piles knows from experience that constipation aggravates the complaint. This pain and discomfort can be overcome by keeping the bowels free and regular by the occasional use of Pinkettes, which gently ensure daily regularity, thus giving the piles a fair opportunity to dry up and heal. They dispel constipation, bilious attacks, sick headaches, clear the skin, purify the breath. SUPER-DURABLE FLAT PAINT
FLAT WALL FINISH
A perfect Paint of smooth surface for Interior Wall Coating

The surface obtainable with this paint is smooth and flat, i.e., it is not a grainy, dead, lifeless finish, but of a velvety texture. It dries in a reasonably quick time, so that work can be carried out effectively, yet has the property of remaining open long enough to enable the worker to cover a large surface of wall without making laps or edges.
Excellent results with Super Durable Flat Finish are easily obtained, irrespective of the skill of the user, and an elaborate preparation of the surface is usually quite unnecessary.
Super Durable Flat Finish has been tried on non-absorbent surfaces of all kinds and where distemper and oil paint have proved prone to shell or flake off, it has always adhered. It gives a lasting finish of surprising beauty.
1 Imperial Gallon covers about 130 square yards one coat.

CASTORIA
for Infants and Children.
Save the Babies.
INFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twenty-two per cent, or nearly one-quarter, die before they reach one year; thirty-seven per cent, or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen!
We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save a majority of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium, or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy and retard circulation and lead to congestions, sickness, death. Castoria operates exactly the reverse. It causes the blood to circulate properly, opens the pores of the skin and allays fever.
The signature of Chas. H. Fletcher guarantees genuine Castoria
Physicians Recommend Castoria.
"I have used your Castoria in cases of colic in children and have found it the best medicine of its kind on the market."
J. E. SIMPSON, M. D., Chicago, Ill.
"A medicine so valuable and beneficial for children as your Castoria is deserves the highest praise. I find it in use everywhere."
J. S. ALEXANDER, M. D., Omaha, Neb.
"Prescribed your Castoria on various occasions in suitable cases and have found it a painless and efficient laxative, especially in the various diseases of childhood."
CHAS. EDWARD CARDINER, M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.
"Castoria is good for children and I frequently prescribe it, and always obtain the desired result."
F. GERALD BLATTNER, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.
"I have prescribed Castoria to families for several years. It is all right. Mothers like it, for children will take it without any trouble."
C. A. WILSON, M. D., St. Louis, Mo.
"Your Castoria is a splendid remedy for children, known the world over. I use it in my practice and have no hesitancy in recommending it for the complaints of infants and children."
J. A. BOARMAN, M. D., Kansas City, Mo.

Seize Arms On Japanese Ship At Hankow

(Independent News Service)

Hankow, Aug. 21.—Four mauser revolvers and a small amount of ammunition were found on board the steamer Taico, of Nishin Kisen Kaisha, Ltd., when she arrived in port yesterday afternoon. Information of contraband being on board the steamer having been received in a telegram a great number of Chinese inspectors of the Martime Customs were on the hulk awaiting her arrival, and when she drew alongside a thorough search of the entire ship was made.

After a few hours of intent searching, it seemed as though the result would be fruitless, but finally the arms and ammunitions were uncarthed. No information has been received about the person who is responsible for attempting to smuggle them into the port, but two Chinese suspects were arrested. As the later alleged that a Japanese was connected with the case, they have been turned over to the Japanese Consulate for reference and further investigation.

Captured Priest Is Receiving Bad Treatment

(Independent News Service)

Hankow, Aug. 21.—Father P. A. Melotto is reported to be treated very roughly by the bandits who are still holding him to make good their negotiations with the government. It is alleged that he was tortured by the bandits who pulled out his beard by the root, and his face has swollen up considerably as a result of the harsh treatment. An unconfirmed report states that Father Melotto has been carried off to Sungho, but the Catholic priest of Pingba think that he is still the hand of bandits who visited Pingba only recently.

The gravest concern is being felt over the safety of Father Melotto who on account of his old age it is feared may not be able to outlive the awful trials of captivity.

Divers Unable To Locate Submarine

Street Hawkers Of Cigarettes To Be Taxed

(Independent News Service)

Hankow, Aug. 21.—The Hupeh Cigarette Tax Bureau has notified the local police that street hawkers of cigarettes in the Wuhan district shall be required to pay an annual tax of $1 and $2 per year, and the tax also applies to hawkers' stands on the streets. The Bureau states that since the sanction of the Peking Wine and Tobacco Bureau has been received, the police authorities should cooperate with the tax bureau to carry it into effect.

In the statement to the police, the Bureau made it understood that these new and extremely low rates were fixed, after the system of Shantung Province, and are classified as Groups 5 and 6, as the small cigarette dealers cannot afford up to pay such heavy sums as stipulated under Groups 1, 2, 3 and 4, which call for $40, $16, $8 and $4 per annum respectively.
